Getting here

Easy to get to tough to leave.

South Haven lies in the heart of Southwest Michigan’s lakeshore community – the perfect destination for your next road trip. And our beach-town locale is uniquely walkable, with many of the popular attractions situated conveniently close to the historic downtown center.

While you may never want to leave, South Haven has so many reasons you’ll want to come back again, and again.

It doesn’t stop there, South Haven is just a short, 29-mile drive from Paw Paw – the heart of Van Buren County’s wine country, and home to a thriving music scene. The nearby city of Kalamazoo offers its own tapestry of unique attractions like the famed Gilmore Car Museum and Kalamazoo Air Zoo.

South Haven's South Pier Lighthouse has stood watch for over 150 years and has become an icon of our serene Lake Michigan escape. The South Pier is a postcard-perfect setting for evening strolls, breathtaking views, and stunning sunset photos.

Where water is a way of life.

In South Haven, water is more than just a backdrop; it's the heart of this place. You'll feel its calming presence whether you're strolling the shoreline, floating in the marina, or watching the sunset from downtown.

For boaters, the North and South Marinas offer transient and seasonal slips. When you're off the boat, enjoy a quiet stroll through the harbor or take in the area's history in the Maritime District Harborwalk. And everyone enjoys the food and festivities at Captain Lou's, the Idler Riverboat and Admiral Jack's, located right on the water.

Life's a beach.

Or in our case, beaches – South Haven is home to ten distinctly different public beaches, including South Beach, recently named “Best Beach in Michigan” by USA Today. Each with their own charm and personality. Soft sand, caressing breezes, endless sunshine, and the quiet lap of freshwater waves spilling on the shore; it's all here, and it's exactly what lazy summer afternoons should feel like.

LAKE MICHIGAN

Where there's always something going on.

From our vibrant Fourth of July activities and August's annual Blueberry Festival to February's Ice Breaker party, South Haven knows how to keep the fun going all year long!

And don't miss the big end-of-the-year celebration at the South Haven New Year's Eve Celebration downtown—a night full of music, excitement, and a 1,000 beach ball drop with fireworks at midnight!

Boating bliss.

Boating isn't a sport in South Haven; it's a way of life. Launch yours at Black River Park for a day on Lake Michigan, take an excursion aboard Friends Good Will—an 1810 replica merchant vessel, set out on Lake Michigan with one of South Haven's expert fishing charter captains, or enjoy a peaceful kayak or SUP ride through the 21-mile Heritage Water Trail. No matter your speed, boating is bliss in South Haven.

Beyond the beach.

When vacation beckons beyond the beach, South Haven delivers a vibrant cultural scene brimming with history, art, and culture, from maritime adventures to historic sites, and art exhibits to working studios. View the full list of our key cultural destinations on page 43.

The tranquility of the trail.

The South Haven area boasts over 48 miles of hiking and biking trails, 91 miles of kayaking and canoeing trails, 770 acres of nature preserves, and 11 miles of horseback riding trails, all of which led us to being named a Pure Michigan Trail Town in 2019.

Whether you're looking to go hiking, biking, kayaking, horseback riding, cross-country skiing, snowmobiling or exploring, our trails and nature preserves provide the perfect canvas to reconnect with nature's rhythm and find a tranquil escape.

Our Trails

The Kal Haven Trail travels 33.5 miles to the city of Kalamazoo. Take a relaxing stroll to the bridge and enjoy a beautiful view of the Black River along the way.

The Kal Haven Trail Head is also the starting point for the Great Lake-to-Lake Route #1. The Van Buren Trail spans 14 miles to Hartford and has a paved spur that travels 4.5 miles from South Haven to the Van Buren State Park—a nice distance for a family bike ride.

If traveling by water is more your style, explore the Southwest portion of the Lake Michigan Water Trail, float the Bangor to South Haven Heritage Water Trail, or check out other opportunities on the Black River or the nearby Paw Paw River.

Endless fun for all ages.

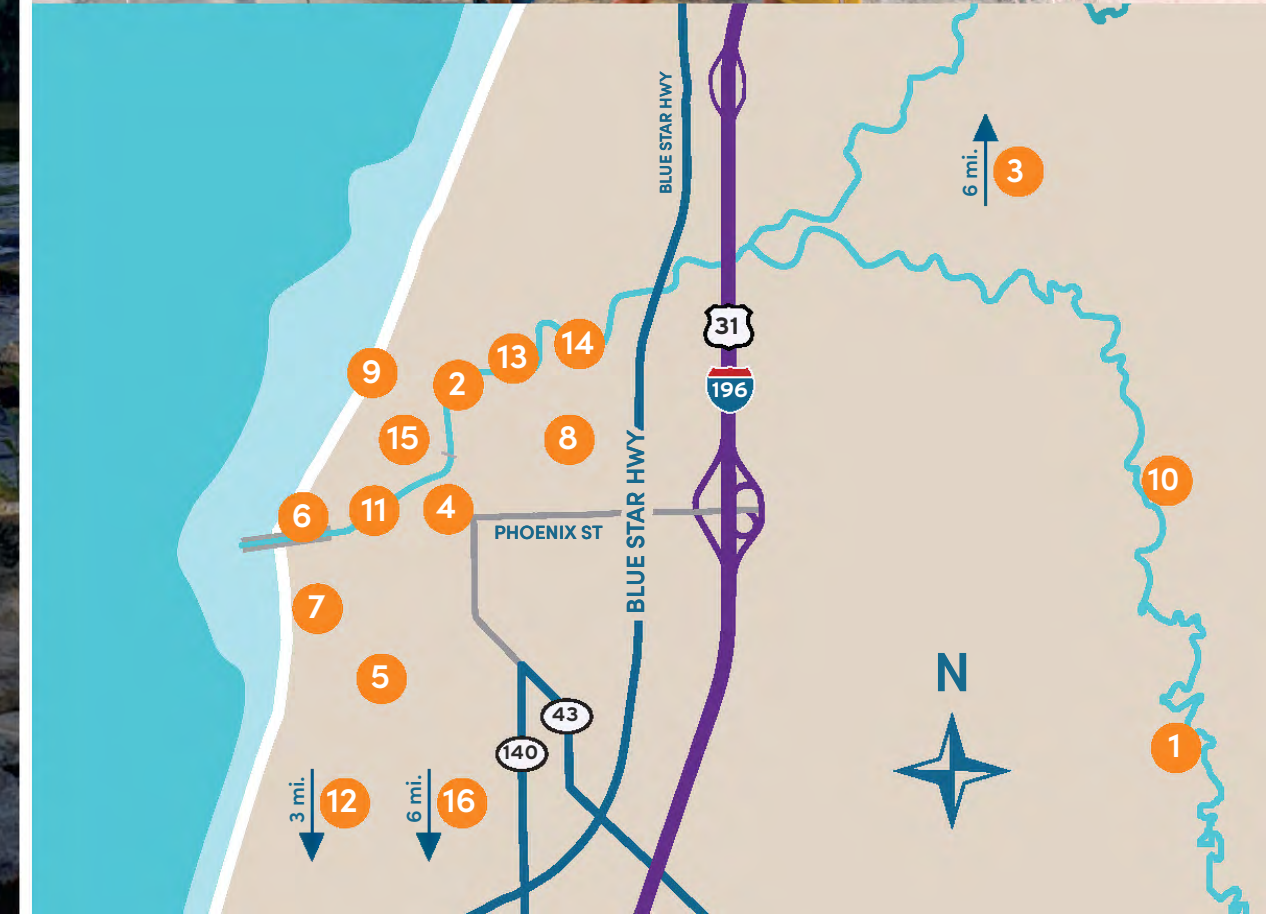

In South Haven, the pressure of parenting melts away through our unique, kid-friendly outdoor adventures, easy-to-access beaches, and interactive destinations designed to spark young imaginations. Here, the only thing you'll need to worry about is which activity to start with.

Spend an afternoon at the Friends Good Will Splash Pad, or head downtown for ice cream and explore shops filled with toys, books, and children's clothing. When the sun sets or the weather shifts, keep the fun going at the old-fashioned movie theater, Rocket Arcade, or bowling alley. Be sure to check out the recently remodeled Kids Corner Park, overlooking Lake Michigan near the popular "Blue Stairs" that lead to the beach.

Savor the flavor.

From cozy breakfast diners to trendy gastro pubs, mouthwatering pizza, and even gourmet hot dogs, South Haven is a food lover's paradise.

Warm days beckon you to one of our three riverfront dining spots, where you can sip signature cocktails, savor classic bar bites, and soak in views that are as unforgettable as the flavors on your plate.

For a day at the beach, order deli sandwiches from North Side Memories, Subs N More or the Depot, or swing by one of the many concessions stands at North and South Beach for a snack or sweet treat.

For that special morning pick-me-up, you don't have to look far; South Haven has a robust selection of locally owned coffee shops, downtown and all around.

Downtown charm.

The streets of South Haven's historic downtown are lined with boutique stores, locally owned coffee shops, specialty restaurants, and one-of-a-kind businesses, many of which remain unchanged by time—a charming reminder of a bygone era.

Whether you're looking for board games and beach toys for your week-long stay, fashionable clothing for hitting the town, or antique finds to bring back home, South Haven's downtown has something for everyone.

Free on a Wednesday or Saturday? Our downtown Farm Market features local farmers and artisans. Choose from a fresh selection of produce, meats, eggs, and baked goods, plus handmade crafts.

Cheers to vacation.

Whether you're a wine connoisseur, craft beer aficionado, or cider enthusiast, Southwest Michigan offers a rich selection of award-winning beverages that are sure to delight, including St. Julian Winery and Distillery, Michigan's oldest winery and craft distillery—also the state's most award-winning.

Downtown South Haven is home to several tasting rooms where you can sample local libations that capture the essence of the region. Or, if you'd prefer to let someone else do the driving, Moveportz Transportation Services and Max Transportation Services offer carefree wine and brewery tours – all you have to do is sit back and savor the moment.

Treat yourself

to some "me time".

Refresh & Renew in South Haven. Massages and facials, hair treatments and nail care, acupuncture, personal fitness training, and small-group wellness classes are all close at hand at South Haven spas and salons.

You'll also find float tanks and sound baths for travelers who want deeper relaxation and sensory rest. Sometimes a little personal pampering puts the finishing touches on a dream vacation, and South Haven offers plenty of ways to unwind at your own pace.

Ripe for the picking.

South Haven is situated in the heart of Michigan's famous fruit belt, where generations have delighted in the area's variety of fruits. There are plentiful U-Pick opportunities for raspberries, strawberries, apples, peaches, pears, and the region's most celebrated crop, blueberries. In fact, South Haven is the Blueberry Capital of the World, and within a 50-mile radius, nearly 300 blueberry farmers cultivate close to 18,500 acres of blueberries.

Whether you're filling your basket or enjoying a sweet snack right off the vine, every visit is a taste of the land's natural bounty, ripe for the picking and ready to savor.

Walking in a winter wonderland.

South Haven isn't just the perfect getaway in summer. Here, adventure knows no season, and winter is the perfect time to come explore. Visit our iconic ice-covered lighthouse, skate at the outdoor rink, cross-country ski or snowshoe at the Van Buren State Park or take a scenic snowmobile ride along the Kal-Haven Trail.

And then afterwards, warm up at one of our cozy cafes and restaurants, catch a movie at our historic Michigan Theatre, or relax in one of several spas or salons. Don't miss out on our New Year's Eve Celebration and Ice Breaker Festival in February!

Say "I do" to someplace special.

When it comes to wedding locales, South Haven will be love at first sight. Whether it's the soft sands and glowing sunsets of our popular beaches, the vibrant energy of our buzzing city, or the rolling beauty of the scenic countryside, every setting here offers something unforgettable.

For intimate celebrations, our locally owned resorts and bed and breakfasts provide the perfect blend of charm and warmth. Cozy, elegant, and filled with personal touches, these venues make every moment feel special—for you and your guests.
